MRS. CRAFTS BODY EXHUMED BY CORONOR

STOMACH SENT TO COLUMBIA FOR ANALYSIS.

Body Taken up at Request of Father And Other Relatives of the Dead Woman.

At the earnest solicitation of the father and sisters of the dead woman, Coroner Felker, of Newberry county, and Coroner Eugene Batson, of Greenville county, on Sunday morning exhumed the dead body of Mrs. Beatrice Crafts, wife of Moses C. Crafts, who died in Greenville some days ago, and who was buried in Rosemont cemetery, this city—her former home. It will be recalled that last week Governor Blease ordered a re-investigation into the facts surrounding the woman's death, and it was reported from Greenville that this re-investigation had been made, and that it had been determined that death was from natural causes.

The stomach was removed from the body by Dr. W. A. Dunn, and was sent to Columbia for examination by Dr. F. A. Coward, the State chemist.

Mrs. Crafts was found dead in bed at her home in the Carolina mill village, in Greenville, on last Thursday morning a week ago. An inquest was held, and a verdict rendered that death was due to heart failure. Under date of June 5, Governor Blease wrote to Sheriff Poole, of Greenville county, instructing him to have the matter re-investigated immediately, in view of reports which had reached him. Governor Blease said in his letter that it was "reported that Crafts bought a coca cola the night before (the night before the death of his wife) and gave it to his wife; that she drank it and went to sleep and did not wake again. It is also stated," wrote the governor, "that Crafts left home that morning, left his wife in bed asleep and went off without his breakfast, something that he had not been known to do before. It is further reported that he had the inquest held and the body embalmed before any of her relatives could reach the place. It is further reported that Crafts was cruel to his wife, and her people have suspicion of poisoning." Governor Blease asked that the matter be thoroughly investigated, and if there were suspicious circumstances, that the body be taken up and examined by physicians.

Later Coroner Felker of this city was informed by the Greenville sheriff that the matter had been investigated and that there was no foundation for the suspicion of relatives.

The woman's father and other relatives were not satisfied, however, and last week Mr. Ellie B. Goldman, of Columbia, Mrs. Crafts' father, accompanied by his two married daughters, went to Greenville to confer with Sheriff Poole and Coroner Batson. They had a conference with Sheriff Poole but did not see Coroner Batson. They returned to Newberry on Saturday and requested Coroner Felker to have the body taken up.

Coroner Felker communicated with Coroner Batson, of Greenville, and told him of the situation, and Coroner Batson came to Newberry on Saturday night. These two officers secured the services of Dr. Dunn and on Sunday morning the body was taken up, and the stomach removed, and sent to Columbia to the State chemist for analysis.

Mr. and Mrs. Crafts formerly lived in Newberry. Mr. Crafts was a policeman here for a few months during last year, resigning the position before the expiration of his commission. The two daughters who have been pressing the matter with their father are Mrs. George Wilson, of Columbia, and Mrs. Jesse Crafts, of Atlanta, the latter having married a brother of her dead sister's husband.

The Williamson Company.

No goods charged and none sent on approval, but if anything purchased is not satisfactory your money will be returned on return of the goods. The sale is on at the old stand of Daniels & Williamson in Main street, and this is a great opportunity to secure some fine articles at a very low price.

Fine Pictures at Theatro.

Mr. D. R. Lavender at the Theatro in the old court house will present Sampson and Delilah tonight, Monday, and also an attempt to rob an express office. On Wednesday night, June 14, he will give the life of Moses. The pictures are good and crowds continue to attend the shows in the old court house.

CHAUTAUQUA AND HOME COMING WEEK IS NEAR

FINE ATTRACTIONS FOR EVERY DAY OF GALA WEEK.

Something of the Various Numbers, Headed by Wm. J. Bryan and R. P. Hobson.

Newberry is in Chautauqua business in dead earnest. Beginning with June 13, and continuing through June 24, Newberry will have on one of the most elaborate Chautauquas ever booked in South Carolina.

William Jennings Bryan, who is yielding a tremendous influence upon the thought of this age; Hobson, of Merrimac fame, and ineteen others men and women of renown will compose the week's entertainment.

Newberry is all aglow with enthusiasm. The chamber of commerce is going to give a home coming week, and elaborate plans are formed for entertaining out-of-town guests. Season tickets were put on sale Thursday morning for the Chautauqua and $500 worth sold the first day.

We have a large, handsome and well ventilated auditorium, and out-of-town guests, wishing to attend the Chautauqua, can have tickets reserved by writing or telephoning Mr. Jno. B. Mayes, treasurer of Chautauqua Association.

Besides Bryan and Hobson, the program will include one entertainment by Miss Bargelt. Miss Bargelt is the fortunate possessor of a pleasing personality. In fact, she fairly teems with that mysterious quality universally designated as personal magnetism. Miss Bargelt is a crayon artist and comes in a company of four, who promise an evening of rare enjoyment. Tom Corwine, recognized as one of the greatest polyphonic imitators, comes for one engagement. He makes you laugh without being ashamed of yourself; makes you think without feeling that you are bored by a moralizing tale. To hear Corwine for an hour is like taking a health tonic. He will rest your tired brain, and make your soul cleaner than before. The great master of magic, mirth and mystery, Walden, gives an entertainment. With Walden on the stage delusion fills the atmosphere and men and women doubt the accuracy of their own sight.

Following Walden, will be Eldredge, who is one of the greatest impersonators who will travel the South this summer. He has been on the professional platform about ten years, but he has been an entertainer all his life. He renders such plays as Enoch Arden, Shylock, Fagin, David Harum, Eben Volden, Chilo and many other popular plays and novels.

Another entertainment will be given by Charles Newcomb from the University of Chattanooga, in which institution he is professor of oratory. Mr. Newcomb possesses a full, rich voice of excellent range. His presence commands the immediate attention of his audience, and his easy, natural gestures and effective pantomime work aid greatly in presenting his interpretations of these splendid plays he has chosen for the entertainment of his audience. He can interpret and keep distinctly apart ten different characters, and make you see them so clearly as to believe them real, living human beings.

The De Koven quartette, together with a ten piece brass band, has been engaged for the entire week. Rev. Louis Eristow opens the Chautauqua by conducting the union services in the city opera house Sunday evening, June 18.

Mr. Hobson is here on Monday, June 19, and Mr. Bryan comes on Wednesday, and Clark, of Chicago, will be the platform manager for Chautauqua for the entire week, and will also deliver one lecture. His subject is "Play Ball." Clark takes everybody to be good and to be worthy of his friendship until it is proven the contrary. He is a good, jolly, natural fellow and his lecture is brim full of comedy.

Newberry is going to celebrate her home-coming week and crowds are expected from all parts of the State. Reduced railroad rates to the Newberry Chautauqua have been granted by the Blue Ridge railway, Columbia, Newberry and Laurens railway, Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railway, Charleston and Western Carolina railway, and the Southern railway.

The officers behind this enterprise will leave nothing undone that will contribute to the comfort and pleasure of visitors to the Chautauquans, and for the ultimate success of the entire undertaking. It is proposed to make this a permanent enterprise. The way in which our people have taken hold of it and the rapid sale of tickets has demonstrated that the June Chautauqua for Newberry and for the surrounding country is just what is wanted. Do not wait until Chautauqua is on to try to get your ticket, but write or 'phone at once.

Mr. Bryan, in spite of all criticism to the contrary, has never wielded a greater influence than he does today, has never had a more burning message for the American people than he is bringing to Newberry, and he has never enjoyed better health and greater power of oratory than he now possesses. His entrance into South Carolina will now enable thousands to hear him, but there is no better place to hear him than in Newberry.

Hobson's message too has received flattering press notices from the Pacific to the Atlantic, and a full house is expected for Hobson.

The city of Newberry is to be congratulated for the progressive movement she is making in this direction, and those who come to this city from June 18 to 24 will have the opportunity of seeing a real typical Southern town fired with zeal and enthusiasm with an undertaking that is calculated to have a tremendous educational influence in this part of the country.

Florida Cotton Bloom.

Dr. W. G. Houseal has received a letter from Mr. W. R. Gauntt, planter and trucker, of Maxville, Fla. Mr. Gauntt enclosed a couple of cotton blooms from his farm. He says: "I have the best crop I have ever had. My field is white with cotton blooms. If you intend to farm come to the country to do it."

at half after seven o'clock
Church of the Redeemer
Newberry, South Carolina.

Pass It On.

If any citizen has any suggestion that he thinks will help make the coming Chautauqua a success, he should pass it on to those who have the management of the entertainment in charge while there is yet time for them to get behind it. We are sure that they will be willing and glad to receive any suggestion because this is an enterprise in which every citizen of the community is equally interested and has equal responsibility with every other citizen. The purpose is to make it a pleasant and helpful occasion, and everybody should have the same purpose with everybody else in making this a great event in the history of Newberry.

Ten-Year Old Girl to Her Mother.
Child—"Mother, where are all those crowds going?"

Mother—"To the Chautauqua to hear Bryan, Hobson, and other great men speak and also to hear many other fine entertainments."

Child—"Then let's go too."

Mother—"No, we were too late to get a ticket, and now they are all gone."

See the point?
